

Vandals Move And Break Big Government Cannon; Damages May Be $200; Expect Arrests

The local National Park office, which had expected to find its task of changing the location of two cannon at the intersection of Carlisle and West Lincoln avenue a relatively simple job, now has an additional duty of repairing one of the cannon because some vandals felt it would be fun to move one of the cannon to some unlikely spot.

Monday, several workmen from the Park Service loosened the bolts of the two cannon (located on college property) preparatory to moving the field pieces back of the monument, also on college property. Changing the location of the guns by a few feet was necessary to make room for a new sidewalk to be laid on the south side of West Lincoln avenue. The men had not completed their task at the close of the work day Monday.

Miss Ann Crouse Weds On Tuesday

Miss Ann Crouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Crouse, York street, and Charles E. Wagner, Baltimore, formerly of Sunbury, were united in marriage in Sunbury at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The bride wore a blue ensemble.

Mr. Wagner is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Wagner of Sunbury.

The couple expects to reside in Baltimore where the bride has been employed for several years in the offices of the International Harvester company. She formerly was a school teacher in rural Adams county.

The couple is honeymooning in Chicago.

SEMINARY GRAD GETS LUTHERAN POST OVERSEAS

Rev. J. Henry Meyer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Elizabeth, N. J., for 19 of its 20-year history, tendered his resignation last Sunday to accept the position of director of Lutheran World Federation work in Syria. He is a graduate of Gettysburg college.

They pushed the heavy carriage and cannon as far as the science hall on North Washington street. When an attempt was made to move the cannon up on the sidewalk, the axle broke and the gun collapsed.

Park wardens, who are conducting an investigation, said that possibly five or six must have taken part in the vandalism. The bronze barrel weighs 1,230 pounds and the cast iron carriage and wheels weigh more than the barrel.

By using a crane park workers were able to move the broken cannon to their utility building where an attempt is being made to repair the axle. If that fails a new axle will have to be secured. Damage will be either $60 or $200 depending on whether the axle can be repaired or must be replaced. Samuel Sollenberger, of the park staff, said to-day.

Expect Arrests

When repaired the cannon will be returned to its West Lincoln avenue site, where with the other gun and the ammunition rack, it will be re-located.

In the meantime the investigation continues and arrests are expected to be made.

AGED COUNTIAN DIES TUESDAY

William Henry Smith, 86, retired farmer and business man, died Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at his home in York Springs. Death was due to a heart condition.

He was a son of the late George Mackley Smith and Hannah (Yeagy) Smith and was born at the Smith homestead in Huntington township where he resided until moving to York Springs 29 years ago. He was the last of a family of nine children.

Mr. Smith was a member of the York Springs Lutheran church. He was formerly a bank director of the York Springs National bank; school director in Huntington township and justice of the peace in Lamont township.

Surviving are his widow, the former Laura Alberta Rindlaub, with whom he observed his 50th wedding anniversary last March; one son, Edgar J., who resides on the Smith homestead; two grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Funeral services Friday at 2 p.m. from the Pittenturri funeral home, York Springs, in charge of his pastor, the Rev. Ralph Meckley. Interment in the New Oxford cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Band Concert On Thursday Evening

The Blue and Gray band of Gettysburg Thursday evening will present another in a series of outdoor concerts on the college lawn near Stevens hall, Carlisle street.

The program will get underway at the usual hour, 8:30 o'clock. The band will present about 15 numbers during the hour and a half long concert. Members of the band have been asked to report at the scene about 8:15 o'clock.

RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Ruth Jeanne Diehl, of McKnightstown, was one of 15 Pennsylvania students who received a $300 scholarship as a National Elks Foundation scholarship winner at the Elks convention in Harrisburg on Tuesday. The awards were made on the basis of scholastic records.

BULLETINS

Washington, Aug. 24 (P)—Secretary of Defense Johnson announced today that 135,000 civilian workers for the armed services will be laid off in his drive to slash military spending. Navy installations were the hardest hit in the civilian cut.

They were ordered to reduce by 76,000, the army by 41,000 and air force, 18,000. This program, going into effect immediately, will result in an estimated saving of $200,000 in the current fiscal year ending next June 30. Then it is calculated to bring a saving of $500,000 a year thereafter.

Washington, Aug. 24 (P)—Major Gen. Herman Feldman told senators today that he never would have let James V. Hunt come into his office if he had known Hunt was a five per center.

Feldman, suspended quartermaster general of the army, was on the witness stand for the second day at the Senate inquiry into whether improper influence has figured in the handling of government business.

Miami, Fla., Aug. 24 (P)—A small but vicious tropical hurricane raged off the coast of North Carolina to day as a new storm gathered strength north of Puerto Rico, a thousand miles away. Square black and red warning flags flapped along a 45-mile stretch of the desolate upper Carolina capes from Manteo to Cape Lookout.

R. Worth, special assistant to the undersecretary of the navy, acknowledged today that he wrote the "mysterious document" that brought on the investigation of the B-36 bomber.

"I wrote it," Worth testified when Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) called him before the House Armed Services committee in the inquiry.

The writer's identity came out quickly after the committee's counsel had threatened to resign unless the author of the document was named immediately.

Adams County's Ukrainians At First Meeting

TRUNK AND BAG COMPANY WANTS TO LOCATE HERE

The Belber Trunk and Bag company, of Philadelphia, is seeking a new location and is considering Gettysburg, according to a letter received by the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce.

E. Malcolm Belber, an official of the company, wrote the Chamber here that representatives of the firm will be in Gettysburg in a few days to discuss a possible location here.

His letter follows:

"My associates and myself plan to be in Gettysburg some day during the coming week to look further into the possibilities of establishing in Gettysburg."

Need Large Space

"So that you have an opportunity to look around a bit before our arrival, we will require a plant containing approximately 50,000 feet of manufacturing floor space. This must be all on one floor, and we would prefer that it have a railroad siding. We normally employ between 250 and 400 people. Our last annual payroll was in excess of $600,000. We use only normal amounts of water and power and sewerage. As to water and sewage, these do not enter into our process of manufacture.

"After we have selected the community that looks best to us, we are planning to start a pilot plant immediately to prove out the adaptability of the labor in the area to our product. If there is no plant of the size and type that we would like to have for permanent operation and we can get a piece of manufacturing space containing between 7,500

Pictured on the east lawn of the Fair Acres farm of J. W. Bishop, north of New Chester, a few minutes after they had completed the organization of the Ukrainian Relief Association of Adams County Sunday afternoon, are these 80 Ukrainians who have found new homes and jobs in Adams County in the last few months. The American and Ukrainian flags fly on staves back of the group.

Seated at the table are the officers of the new association. They are, left to right: Mrs. Maria Zubai, treasurer; I. Z. Musselman, Orrtanna, a trustee; John Stechukivsky, president; Mr. Bishop, also a trustee and chairman of the county committee that has placed the Ukrainians, and Mrs. Bishop. Standing back of Mr. Musselman is Dr. Walter Gallon, executive secretary of the United Ukrainian-American Relief Committee. On his left is Dr. Paul Dubas, also a committee official, and Fr. Hanas, Greek Catholic priest who promised monthly religious services here for the new settlers.

In the insert in the upper right is Pawlo Ostapenko, whose 500-acre Ukrainian farm was seized by the Reds. After several terms in prison, work in the coal mines and five years in Siberia, he walked 2,000 miles with four members of his family and their only possession, a cow, to escape the Russians. After the walk from Kiev to Germany and after four years in a Displaced Persons camp in Munich, Ostapenko came to this country. His daughter and her family are in Maryland.

INDUSTRY WILL OBSERVE WEEK

Members of the industry committee of the county's Pennsylvania Week observance today were tabulating responses from the heads of various industries before announcing a final program for the week.

October 17-24.

Letters have been sent to every industry in the county, the committee, John D. Teeter, chairman, Ernest Dunbar and John Hauser, announced today.

The letters ask each industrialist to report his plans for participation in the week's activities.

Among the plans announced by industries so far are open house activities, displays of articles in various store windows, construction of special displays in reception rooms of various plants, flying of Pennsylvania Week flags and the like.

Members of the committee today urged an early reply from all those receiving the letters so that a correlated program can be set up.

Kadel's Gladioli Win More Honors

Two seedling gladioli originated by Byron R. Kadel, Lebanon high school teacher and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kadel, West Middle street, won special awards at the Eastern International Gladiolus show at Binghamton, N. Y., August 16. Amateur and commercial growers from 25 states and Canada entered the show's 409 classes.

Kadel's awards were for Variety C. D. Fortnam, a ruffled bluish pink with a cream throat, which was judged the most beautiful gladiolus spike in the entire show.

Another one, tentatively named Formality, won the American Home Achievement medal. Formality is unusual in color and form for it is bluish with a lavender throat and stamens and the petals roll back so that the florets almost overlap.

This is the tenth time in 24 summers of growing gladioli that Mr. Kadel has won the American Home Achievement medal for a seedling. He is an amateur.

TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Newly-elected officers of the Dorsey-Stanton American Legion post will be installed this evening by District Commander Wilbur A. Geiselman at a meeting to be held at the local post home at 8 o'clock.

Profits from the evening's program are to be used to help pay for repainting of the church and parsonage.

Flying Squirrels Creating Havoc

At least two Lincolnway east residents are waging a constant battle to keep the animal kingdom from taking over their properties.

The animals in question, the residents swear, are flying squirrels.

P. Ward Stallsmith and C. Arthur Brane, both of whom reside along the Lincoln highway several miles east of here, report invasions by the rodent-like beasts whose loose folds of skin between legs permit them to glide through the air from tree to tree, from tree to ground, or in the case of the two local men, from tree to residence.

Both claim the squirrels are worse than rats for destructiveness.

Brane claims the animals add insult to injury when they apparently "flew" to the window of his bedroom, made their way into the house and entered a bureau drawer in his bedroom, making a shambles of shirts and other clothes inside the drawer by eating and biting the clothing until some of the articles were in shreds.

Lewin was one of four truck drivers nabbed by state police during patrols Tuesday night. Three other truckers were charged before Justice of the Peace W. D. Brown, Straban township, for speeding on the Lincoln highway. Ten day notices were sent in each case.

The truckers were Charles Walter Eller, Peach Bottom; Charles Kenneth Bigham, 42 Stratton street, and Styles E. Ott, Chambersburg.

TOWN'S HISTORY PROGRAM TOPIC

The history of Hunterstown, which once was marked to be the county seat, will be reviewed and a look taken into the future of that community in a program to be presented Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the chapel of the Great Conewago Presbyterian church.

The program is being sponsored by the junior class of the church school taught by Mrs. James Ford. Mrs. Ford will be in charge assisted by members of the class.

Mrs. Ford, in preparing the history of the community, has gone back more than two centuries for beginnings of the town and its Presbyterian and Methodist churches. Crayon drawings of the past and future by Mrs. A. H. Good will be displayed.

Mrs. Ford envisions for the town founded by David Hunter in the middle 18th century, factories, a community park, a newspaper and an enlarged residential section.

There will be special music during the evening. An offering will be received.

Beginning about 5:30 o'clock, Miss Gail Bell's circle of the Women's Missionary society will offer sandwiches, ice cream and other refreshments for sale at the church grounds.

Profits from the evening's program are to be used to help pay for repainting of the church and parsonage.

Democrats Oust States Rights Members From Four States; Boyle Named Chairman

Washington, Aug. 24 (P)—The Democratic National committee today ousted State Rights members from Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina.

As expected, William M. Boyle, Jr., was elected national chairman, succeeding Senator J. Howard McGrath (D-R.I.).

The committee, involved in a hot-long-standing family row over the desertion last year of State Rights, shouted its approval of recommendations for punishment handed down by a credentials committee.

The party purge was executed by voice vote.

Then the committee started debating whether to retain Wright Morrow as Texas national commit-

Xavier School Opens Sept. 1; Enroll Sunday

Children who will enter the first grade at St. Francis Xavier's Catholic school this year must be registered by their parents on Sunday. Sister Mary Clare, Mother Superior of the local Sisters of Mercy convent, announced today. The children may be registered at the convent after any of the three Sunday mornings.

Only those children who will be at least six years old before February 1 will be enrolled. No children who will be six years old February 1 or thereafter may be enrolled, it

REDS CHARGE TITO PLOTTING BALKAN WAR

London, Aug. 23 (AP)—Charges of plotting a Balkan war were hurled at Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia last night as the Russian-led campaign against him took a new turn.

While diplomatic and other sources still sought to fathom the implications of Russia's threat to take "effective measures" against the Tito regime, a Romanian Communist leader made the new accusation.

The Romanian was Vice Premier Gheorghe Gheorghiu-dej, who said Tito was "plotting to set ablaze the Balkan powder keg." He spoke at a rally attended by some 8,000 "select" Romanian Reds.

Charges Western Link

Marshal Klement Voroshilov, a member of Russia's Politburo, spoke at the same rally and assailed Tito

as a "traitor who has become the most bitter enemy of the Soviet Union and the People's Democracies."

Following the lead of recent Soviet notes assailing the Yugoslav government, Voroshilov sought to link Tito with Fascism. Similarly, he accused him of negotiating with the West "behind the backs of the Soviet Union and the People's Democracies."

Both speakers fell into the familiar pattern of attacks on "American-British imperialism."

Called War Of Nerves

The new Communists assailed followed a day in which Western and neutral diplomats in Yugoslavia were reported jittery, although discounting a flood of rumors about troop movements near the Yugoslav borders.

British newspapers, commenting on the Soviet threats against Yugoslavia, likened them to the language used by Hitler as he prepared to march against Germany's smaller neighbors.

Most diplomatic sources, however, felt the new moves by Russia and Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) spokes-instrument for free peoples everywhere."

The Rev. Mr. Swain urged the local club to have at least ten meetings during the year on international relations. Speaking both at the regular meeting and at a club assembly of committee chairmen held following the session, the district governor urged the club to stress "international understanding, vocational service—meaning improving the standards of business, and youth and education work during the coming year."

He urged extension of the local club's program of providing financial aid to needy college students, and suggested that the club give awards for outstanding scholastic standing in the local schools.

"Service above self—he profits most who serves the best," the motto of Rotary, should be sold to the whole world as a working principle, Swain said. "It is a matter which is as important on the local scale as on the international scale. For human beings are doomed if they do not learn to cooperate."

Plan Joint Meeting

Rotary, he pointed out, "helps bridge the gap between races and religions, between nations and peoples, because it provides a place where individuals can get to know one another and work together for the betterment of all. The Rotary plan is acquaintanceship to bring understanding; good will, to bring people to appreciate each other, and the result, whether in a community or internationally will be peace."

Fifty members attended the session at which President William G. Weaver presided.

The local Rotary and Lions clubs will meet next Monday evening for a joint recreation session at Sheffler's park, it was announced.

EDUCATION AID BILL SNARLED

Washington, Aug. 24 (P)—Rebelious members of the House Education and Labor committee met today behind closed doors in a doubtful last-minute attempt to break a deadlock over Federal aid to education.

Meanwhile, Dr. Joseph M. Dawson, a prominent Baptist, pulled out of the committee's round-table discussions on the touchy subject with a bitter blast at Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.).

Dawson declared that Lesinski had invited a Protestant spokesman to the discussions only at the insistence of other committee members.

"So far in this controversy," he added, "it appears to be the strategy of the Catholics to kill free speech and constitutional action by hurling the epithet 'bigot'."

Federal aid to education has been stymied in the House by Catholic objections to ban against the use of Federal funds for such services as school buses in non-public schools. While Lesinski, a Catholic, has called the bill dead, some committee members have pressed for hearings.

Yesterday Rep. Sims (D-S. C.) lined up a bare majority of the 25-man group to override Lesinski in a bid for a compromise.

But as the hour for the meeting neared, there was some doubt whether Sims could hold his majority intact in the face of those who prefer to let the issue go over until the next session of Congress.

Williams In Lead
For Three Weeks

Chicago, Aug. 24 (WP)—Boston's Ted Williams today apparently was headed towards his third straight American league batting title and his fifth since 1941.

Williams, now in front for three straight weeks, had a pace-setting 356 mark according to official figures computed through last Sunday's games. That was 11 points ahead of runner-up George Kell of Detroit, who had .345.

Bob Dillinger of St. Louis held third spot, despite a five-point slump to .337. Boston's Dom DiMaggio, once the front-runner, dropped from a third-spot tie to fourth with .331, slumping 11 points during the week.

Other leaders: Dale Mitchell, Cleveland, .319; Don Kolloway, Detroit, who spurted from ninth to sixth with .312; Johnny Pesky, Boston, and Cass Michaels, Chicago, .305 each; Roy Sievers, St. Louis, .303; and Vern Stephens, Boston, and Larry Doby, Cleveland, .300 each.

The Hagerstown Owls won't be in the Interstate league under that name next year.

Owner Oren E. Sterling announced yesterday he will withdraw the franchise from Hagerstown at the end of the current season. Sterling said he has received several offers for the club but declined to give any other details.

Both Atlantic City, N. J., and Reading, Pa., have been mentioned as possible sites of the team next year.

Mrs. Kenworthy Wins Handicap Tournament

Mrs. Robert Kenworthy won the handicap golf tournament held for the ladies at the Gettysburg Country Club Tuesday with a score of 38. Mrs. Wilmer E. Roth was second with 39 and Mrs. Donald Wickham was third with a score of 40.

A luncheon will be held next Tuesday at 1 p.m. in connection with the weekly event, reservations for which may be made with Mrs. Charles Smith, West Broadway.

The Dodger outlook was gloomy until Roe, working with only two days' rest, beat the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, at Ebbets field last night in the second half of a day-night doubleheader.

Stan Musial and associates took the afternoon game, 5-3, to move three games ahead of the Brooks, extend a Brooklyn losing streak to four games and bring the under-taker to the door.

Boe Comes Through

Roe, who usually receives from six to seven days' rest between starts, was thrown into the breach by a desperate Burt Shotton and he came through brilliantly. Failure would have dumped the Brooks four games off the pace of the snarling Missourians.

Old Preach, a former Red Bird, got off to a rocky start. Musial tagged him for a two-run homer in the first inning. The blow was the Card star's 22nd.

Lefty Howie Pollet blanked the Dodgers over the first three innings, but in the fourth the Dodgers came to life and solved him for two runs. In the fifth, Carl Furillo doubled home Pee Wee Reese with the run that gave the Brooks a 3-2 lead.

Musial And Slaughter

The Cards quieted the crowd in the sixth, as Enos Slaughter, the other Dodger tormentor, singled home Pee Wee Reese to tie the score at 3-3.

Roe tightened up and held the Cards hitless the rest of the way, but not so Pollet. The 16-game winner gave up the winning run in the eighth inning with one out, yielding consecutive doubles to Roy Campanella and Duke Snider. The victory was Roe's tenth compared to four defeats.

Musial and Slaughter teamed to bat the Cards to victory in the opener. Musial laced out a homer and single and Slaughter contributed a triple, double and single to the Cards' eight-hit attack.

Top Teams Lose

Meanwhile, all three pennant contenders in the American league race were defeated. The league-leading New York Yankees were thrashed 8-4, by the Tigers in a day game at Detroit. The runnerup Boston Red Sox were upset by the seventh-place Browns, 5-4, in a night game at St. Louis. The third-place Cleveland Indians bowed, 4-2, to the tail-end Washington Senators under the lights in Cleveland.

Lefty Hal Newhouser, with the aid of home runs by Pat Mullin, Vic Wertz and Eddie Lake stopped the Yanks, who still lead the circuit by two and one-half games.

Jack Graham's 20th home run of the season ruined the Red Sox. Graham connected with one in the eighth off young Chuck Stobbs to enable the Browns to overcome a 4-3 deficit.

Senators Break Streak

Rae Scarborough cooled off the Indians, yielding only six hits to snap Washington's 11-game losing streak.

The Philadelphia Athletics retained fourth place, one percentage point ahead of Detroit, as Joe Coleman pitched and helped bat the A's to a 4-2 victory over the White Sox in a night game at Chicago.

The Boston Braves protected their one-game, third-place margin over the Philadelphia Phillies in the National loop, defeating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-2, while the Phils edged the Cincinnati Reds, 4-3 in 13 innings.

Giants Lose

Johnny Sain posted his tenth triumph and the Braves' fourth straight as he checked the Pirates on six safeties.

Richie Ashburn's fly ball enabled Andy Seminick to score from third after the catch with the Phils' payoff run.

In New York, the Chicago Cubs barely outlasted the Giants, 7-5, after Doyle Lade had pitched a two-hitter shutout for eight innings. With five runs in and the bases loaded in the ninth, Reliever Bob Muncrief got Bobby Thomson to hit into a force play for the final out and save Lade's third triumph.

Last night the Owls dropped a 6-4 decision to the Trenton Giants. The victory kept the fifth-place Giants in the running for a playoff berth, two games in back of the fourth-place Lancaster Red Roses.

The Owls downed the Harrisburg Senators 6-4. Jack Elkins hit two homers and Arnie Wallis clouted one to account for four of the Lancaster runs.

The pace setting Cardinals capitalized on tight pitching and Sunbury errors to defeat the Reds 3-1. Leftfielder George Dries struck out 10 Sunbury batters and pitched himself out of five ticklish spots.

The third place Wilmington Blue Rocks nosed out the York White Roses 4-3 as Jack Brittin received credit for his 19th victory of the year.

BROOKLYN AND CARDS DIVIDE TWO CONTESTS

By RALPH RODEN

Like the tree, pennant talk is blooming in Brooklyn once again.

Preacher Roe, slim 31-year-old leftfielder of the Dodgers, is responsible for the fanning of the Dodger pennant flames.

EDUCATION AID BILL SNARLED

Washington, Aug. 24 (P)—Rebelous members of the House Education and Labor committee met today behind closed doors in a doubtful last-minute attempt to break a deadlock over Federal aid to education.

Meanwhile, Dr. Joseph M. Dawson, a prominent Baptist, pulled out of the committee's round table discussions on the touchy subject with a bitter blast at Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.).

Dawson declared that Lesinski had invited a Protestant spokesman to the discussions only at the insistence of other committee members.

"So far in this controversy," he added, "it appears to be the strategy of the Catholics to kill free speech and constitutional action by hurling the epithet 'bigot.'"

Federal aid to education has been stymied in the House by Catholic objections to ban against the use of Federal funds for such services as school buses in non-public schools.

While Lesinski, a Catholic, has called the bill dead, some committee members have pressed for hearings.

Yesterday Rep. Sims (D-S. C.) lined up a bare majority of the 25-man group to override Lesinski in a bid for a compromise.

But as the hour for the meeting neared, there was some doubt whether Sims could hold his majority intact in the face of those who prefer to let the issue go over until the next session of Congress.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

CELEBRATION OF THE DAWN

Can there be any celebration quite so dramatic and so pregnant with possibilities as the unfolding of the dawn? The enlivening of the leaves of trees, the movements of the delicate curtains of buds and the spreading out of every flower as though reaching to catch the first glorious touch of gold from the sun. And it is the time of many bursting of seeds to be thrown to the winds like tiny rockets.

The dawn is a celebration of miracles. With its spirit within our hearts we are invited to look up, not down, and to become conscious of every atom that the light stirs in every object of earth. The dawn is the tossing off of its garments of night to those colorful ones of the day. A benediction to the night and a doxology to the day.

Nature's orchestra is always in tune, and there are noises so silent that the human ear cannot perceive them, yet they melt into every note that is cast upon the air by bird, insect, and bend of leaf or tree.
There is a harmonious blending of song, that is ethereal in its composition. A symphony of beauty, fragrance of earth and spiritual intoxicants.

The joys of all the earth unbend with the Dawn. How anxious the shut-in and the stricken in body respond. How they await its overture! Every chirp of sparrow, every song of robin or thrush is medicine to both body and soul. And what a rush of joy after a rain-drenched night, as the sun's rays touch the varnished and refreshed earth! Nature's griefs are absorbed and melt into laughter.

The Dawn is created for new beginnings, new resolves and obliterated regrets. The blue sky is whipped with wings that soar in gladness out of the darkness into the light. No discouragement abides in those tiny insect gatherers as they fly from tree to tree, patient, happy workers—messengers of hope to us
all. Their very bodies are afame with passion and music.

Across meadows, over mountain passes, and upon the dancing waves of sea, river, and lake the Dawn spreads its glow and testament of assurance. Can we do less than enter wholeheartedly into its celebration?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "In The Hall of Sorrow."

THE FAILURE

He saw the tattered hat and coat,
The worn out shoes and shirt
And at a glance could clearly note
The man was smeared with dirt.

The signs of failure on his face
Were stamped for all to see,
And there was left no single trace
Of what he'd hoped to be!

There was a bishop, long since
dead,
Who saw a tramp pass by.
"But for the grace of God," he
said,
"In his place now were I."

When failures pass I wonder this,
As weakly they plod:
What ill fortune did they miss
The saving grace of God?

Emmitsburg LIONS TO BACK LEGION'S BLOOD BANK PROGRAM

The Emmitsburg Lions club met Monday evening at the Lutheran parish house with President Robert Daugherty in charge of the meeting.

Harold Hoke, who is chairman of the Boys' and Girls' committee, reported a likely candidate for a new Scout master. It was moved and seconded that a committee be appointed to reorganize a new Scout troupe.

A technicolor movie was shown by Philip B. Sharpe, entitled "Trigger Happy Harry," which lasted thirty minutes. It illustrated good and bad habits practiced by careless hunters in the field and forest, and emphasized the seriousness of good riflery. The movie was produced by the National Rifle association.

The Lions officially decided to give full support to the American Leg-ion's Blood Bank campaign, which is under the chairmanship of Robert Wormley. There will be a meeting of donors in the hands of the local doctors.

The Program committee has almost completed plans for the entertainment for the year, something which has never been done so far in advance in this club.

At the next regular meeting, Monday, September 12, plans will be completed for the annual Ladies' Night.

There will be a board of directors meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Firemen's hall.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott on Tuesday were Mrs. John Baptista, Sr., Mrs. John Baptista, Jr., Mrs. Parker Smith, daughter, Barbara, and Mrs. Wayne
Smith, all of Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimes entertained Mrs. Grimes' sister, Miss Reeta Dern, in honor of her 39th birthday, on Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimes and son, Fred, Mr. and Mrs. Murray
Roop, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wolfe,
Mrs. Mary C. Fuss, Mrs. Carrie Fuss
Long, Mrs. Carrie Dern, Paul Dern,
Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dern, all of Emmitsburg, and Mrs. Hobbs and daughter, of Frederick.

Johnny Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Miller, who is stationed at Norfolk, visited at his home over the weekend.

Mrs. Roy Bollinger, East Main street, is confined to her home due to illness.

Miss Maude Derr, who has been a patient at the Frederick Memorial hospital for several weeks, returned home yesterday.

Miss Grace Rowe, West Main street, attended the Robertson family reunion which was held at Pine Mar camp on Sunday, at which approximately 100 people attended.

Mrs. Carrie Hartzell is spending a few days with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bollinger.

Cola Rangers vs. VFW, 6:30 p. m.
G. L. Bream Garage vs. Stanton Legion.

Elks vs. Lentz Legion.

Tonight's results may determine the first four teams in the Community Softball league who will take part in the playoffs. A victory for the VFW in the opener will give the vets at least a tie for fourth place to make it the fourth team.

Despite being held to three hits by Dorn, Stanton Legion hurler, the Elks eked out a 3-2 victory Tuesday evening in a tight game. Williams connected for three of the losers' five safeties.

The Lentz Legion forfeited another game to the G. L. Bream Garage team by failing to have enough players for a team in the second game.

The Texas Lunch nosed out the Moose 10-7 in the nightcap. After taking a 6-1 lead in the top half of the sixth, the lunchmen yielded five runs in the last of the frame to knot the score at 6-6. Bartholomew led off the seventh with a long homerun and before the inning was over the lunchmen added three runs to clinch the decision.

Williams In Lead
For Three Weeks

Chicago, Aug. 24 (AP)—Boston's Ted Williams today apparently was headed towards his third straight American league batting title and his fifth since 1941.

Williams, now in front for three straight weeks, had a pace-setting .36 mark according to official figures computed through last Sunday's games. That was 11 points ahead of runner-up George Kell of Detroit, who had .345.

Bob Dillinger of St. Louis held third spot, despite a five-point slump to .337. Boston's Dom DiMaggio, once the front-runner, dropped from a third-spot tie to fourth with .331, slumping 11 points during the week.

Other leaders: Dale Mitchell, Cleveland, .319; Don Kolloway, Detroit, who spurted from ninth to sixth with .312; Johnny Pesky, Boston, and Cass Michaels, Chicago, .305 each; Roy Sievers, St. Louis, .303; and Vern Stephens, Boston, and Larry Doby, Cleveland, .300 a piece.

Mrs. Kenworthy Wins Handicap Tournament

Mrs. Robert Kenworthy won the handicap golf tournament held for the ladies at the Gettysburg Country club Tuesday with a score of 38. Mrs. Wilmer E. Roth was second with 39 and Mrs. Donald Wickerham was third with a score of 40.

A luncheon will be held next Tuesday at 1 p. m. in connection with the weekly event, reservations for which may be made with Mrs. Charles Smith, West Broadway.

DUTCHMEN TO START AUG. 29

Anville, Pa., Aug. 24—Head Coach Andy Kerr, mentor of the Lebanon Valley college grididers, will arrive this week on the Anville campus in preparation for the pre-season drills commencing Monday, August 29.

The famous coach has lost only a few of his players through graduation and a squad of over 60 is expected to report for the initial drills. Coach Kerr will stage two work-outs daily until the start of Freshmen Week activities in the middle of September. The Blue and White grid eleven will open their current schedule with Gettysburg College, Saturday evening, September 24, under the lights at the Hershey stadium. This game is sponsored by the Harrisburg Rotary.

Dick Fox and Roger Robinson, assistant coaches of the "Flying Dutchmen," are now on campus in preparation for the players who will report for the drills.

Returning lettermen of the 1948 squad include George Cardone, Endicott, N. Y.; Co-captain Robert Bowman, Lebanon; Co-captain Henry DiJohnson, Lebanon; Paul Edwards, Scranton; Guy Euston, Pottstown; Robert Fischer, Little Falls, N. J.; Walter Gage, Rahway, N. J.; Norman Lukens, Harrisburg; Jerome Markis, Long Branch, N. J.; Joseph Oxley, Long Branch, N. J.; Thomas Quinn, Keyser, W. Va.; George Roman, Manville, N. J.; Robert Shaik, Lebanon; Dale Shellenberger, Red Lion, and Edward Testen, Elizabeth, N. J.

Lost through graduation are Quarterback Herb Eckenroth, Hummelstown; Half-back Robert Hess, Lebanon; Co-captain Bill Keefer, Pottstown, and Co-captain Paul Mateyak, Tamaqua.

The Anville grididers will be led this year by "Hank" DiJohnson former Lebanon Catholic high athlete and Bob Bowman, former athlete of Lebanon high school, who serve as co-captains.

EDUCATION AID BILL SNARLED

Washington, Aug. 24 (P)—Rebelious members of the House Education and Labor committee met today behind closed doors in a doubtful last-minute attempt to break a deadlock over Federal aid to education.

Meanwhile, Dr. Joseph M. Dawson, a prominent Baptist, pulled out of the committee's round table discussions on the touchy subject with a bitter blast at Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.).

Dawson declared that Lesinski had invited a Protestant spokesman to the discussions only at the insistence of other committee members.

"So far in this controversy," he added, "it appears to be the strategy of the Catholics to kill free speech and constitutional action by hurling the epithet 'bigot.'"

Federal aid to education has been stymied in the House by Catholic objections to ban against the use of Federal funds for such services as school buses in non-public schools.

While Lesinski, a Catholic, has called the bill dead, some committee members have pressed for hearings.

Yesterday Rep. Sims (D-S.C.) lined up a bare majority of the 25-man group to override Lesinski in a bid for a compromise.

But as the hour for the meeting neared, there was some doubt whether Sims could hold his majority intact in the face of those who prefer to let the issue go over until the next session of Congress.

TRUNK AND BAG

(Continued from Page 1) and 15,000 square feet for the pilot plant, this will give us the opportunity to prove out conditions in the community, which we would want to do before committing either ourselves or the community to any major outlay. We would require not to exceed three months in the pilot plant to determine definitely the suitability of the community for our product.

"We will phone as soon as we can set a definite time for our arrival in Gettysburg and endeavor to give you as much notice as possible."

Young Farmers At N.O. Await Charter

Members of the New Oxford chapter, Pennsylvania Young Farmers' Association, today awaited receipt of their charter from state headquarters.

The organization of young men recently organized with the election of the following officers: Thomas R. Lingg, Abbottstown R. D. 1, president; Ernest D. Loper, East Berlin R. D. 2, vice president; George R. Lighty, East Berlin R. D. 1, secretary; Marcus A. Storms, New Oxford R. D. 2, treasurer, and Claude W. Klinedinst, New Oxford R. D. 2, reporter.

Chapter sessions will be conducted every Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Aims of the organization are to act on pending legislation, co-operative buying of products for farm purposes, encourage and practice conservation, practice leadership in business meetings and cooperate with other farm organizations.

Riley, Littlestown; Paul Harmon; John Plank; Mrs. Roy Kindig and Roy Weener, Jr.; Alvin Dutterer, Jr., Silver Run; and the reader, Mrs. Bankert.

A guitar selection by James Mumford, Littlestown, followed, and a solo by Fred Harmon, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Harmon. A play, "Gads and Gossips" was presented by Mrs. Roy Kindig. Mrs. Alvin Dutterer, Jr., and Mrs. Bankert. After a group song, Mrs. Roy Kindig conducted a short memorial service for the six members of the clan who passed in Common Pleas court yesterday.

Edna Basehoar, Littlestown, presented the historian's report.

Prizes were awarded to the following: guessing contest, Elaine Basehoar; youngest baby, Nancy Marie Brown, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown; oldest lady, Mrs. Frances Geiselman; old man, George W. Basehoar, Littlestown; the most recent married couple, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Riley, Littlestown; longest married couple, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ivan Kindig, Littlestown, president, was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. J. Leon Haines, Hampstead, Md., presented the secretary's report and Erwin A. Rebert, Littlestown, gave the treasurer's report. Election of officers was held with the following results: Ira Geiselman, Hanover, president; Alvin Dutterer, Jr., Silver Run, vice president; Mrs. John H. Riley, Littlestown, secretary. Miss Edna Basehoar was re-elected historian and Erwin A. Rebert was re-elected treasurer. The following committees were appointed for the 1950 program: program: Mrs. John H. Fleming, Hanover, chairman; Mrs. Irvin Kindig, near town, and Mrs. Horace Moul; memorial service and prizes: Mrs. Roy Kindig, Union Mills, and Mrs. John H. Riley, Littlestown; and refreshment: Mrs. Roy Weener, Gettysburg, chairman; Alvin Gerick, near town, and Ira Geiselman, Jr., Hanover.

Ice cream was served to all present by a committee consisting of Mrs. Roy Kindig, Mrs. Alvin Dutterer, Jr., and Mrs. John H. Riley. The reunion closed with the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Haines. It was decided to hold the 13th annual reunion at the same place, Sunday, August 20, 1950.

General Vaughan, a friend of Mr. Truman since their first army days in 1918, has two jobs in the White House: military aide and coordinator of veterans affairs.

As military aide he lays wreaths and makes speeches when Mr. Truman is too busy to do either; as veterans coordinator he's a referee between government agencies which handle veterans affairs.

Vaughan and the President are on close, daily, friendly terms. They swim together. And it was Vaughan who revealed that the President swims with his glasses on because he's so nearsighted.

All in all, he's been a controversial figure, and apparently is very much aware of it. The Washington Star tells this story about him:

He once cracked that Winston Churchill is a "garrulous old gentleman" and shortly afterward received a letter from the editor of the American Mercury who informed Vaughan that he seemed to detect a literary bent in the general and would the general write an article on any "non-controversial" subject.

Vaughan wrote back that the only non-controversial subject he knew was "motherhood" and did the editor want an article on that?

Chesnut Warns On
Federal Influence

Philadelphia, Aug. 24 (AP)—Federal subsidies will result in the liquidation of state governments, says William H. Chesnut, state Secretary of Labor and Industry. Pennsylvania has become financially subservient to Washington, along with other states, he told the Optimist club of Philadelphia yesterday.

And the commonwealth is paying for its "own demise," Chesnut added, declaring that the federal government is acquiring power to control each state with its loans and gifts to the state, the town, the school district and the individual.

"This money is serving to attach all these interests directly to the central government and to make the state subject to its power."

The solution, he said, "is to send all non-governmental federal functions back to where they belong—to the state and local governments."

This in itself might bring a recommendation for cutting as many as 200,000 civilians off military payrolls.

Secretary of Defense Johnson was reported to be planning for a $13,400,000 military budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. This would be $1,500,000 less than what is budgeted for the current fiscal year. Also, an anti-waste committee is at work in the Defense Department seeking a second savings of $1,000,000,000.

This in itself might bring a recommendation for cutting as many as 200,000 civilians off military payrolls.

Philadelphia Hotel Sued After Theft

Philadelphia, Aug. 24 (AP)—A fashionable Rittenhouse Square hotel is being sued by a tenant for $16,000 which was lost in a robbery.

The suit, brought by Morris Feldman, a real estate agent, and his wife, June, cites an old common law which makes an innkeeper responsible for the safety of his guests' belongings.

Feldman's apartment in the Chateau Crillon was robbed last February 25 of cash, jewelry and clothing.

The Feldmans' attorney, David F. Kaliner, filed the action, known as a complaint in trespass, against Crillon Corp., operators of the hotel, in Common Pleas court yesterday.

Edna Basehoar, Littlestown, presented the historian's report.

Prizes were awarded to the following: guessing contest, Elaine Basehoar; youngest baby, Nancy Marie Brown, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown; oldest lady, Mrs. Frances Geiselman; old man, George W. Basehoar, Littlestown; the most recent married couple, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Riley, Littlestown; longest married couple, Mr. and Mrs. George W. The hearing itself is just a couple of weeks old but early in July when talk of the five per centers was merely simmering in the pot, the general told reporters he knew of "about 300 persons in Washington who engaged in contract negotiations."

"Nobody's Business"

This made the pot boil a bit, but the general himself was boiling at the time. For it was during the same interview—he had just returned from a trip to Guatemala—that reporters asked him who had financed the trip and he said: "That is nobody's God damn business and you can quote me."

Although the general has been under attack, on and off, for some time, Mr. Truman has interpreted the criticism of Vaughan as aimed at himself. He said "I'm a fair target for everything."

Last February, after Drew Pearson, radio commentator, had criticised Vaughan for accepting a medal from President Peron of Argentina, Mr. Truman defended his aide at a public dinner with this famous statement:

Old Friends

"Any S.O.B. who thinks he can cause any of those people (members of his staff or cabinet) to be discharged by me, by some smart aleck statement over the air or in the paper, he's got another think coming."

General Vaughan, a friend of Mr. Truman since their first army days in 1918, has two jobs in the White House: military aide and coordinator of veterans affairs.

As military aide he lays wreaths and makes speeches when Mr. Truman is too busy to do either; as veterans coordinator he's a referee between government agencies which handle veterans affairs.

Vaughan and the President are on close, daily, friendly terms. They swim together. And it was Vaughan who revealed that the President swims with his glasses on because he's so nearsighted.

All in all, he's been a controversial figure, and apparently is very much aware of it. The Washington Star tells this story about him:

He once cracked that Winston Churchill is a "garrulous old gentleman" and shortly afterward received a letter from the editor of the American Mercury who informed Vaughan that he seemed to detect a literary bent in the general and would the general write an article on any "non-controversial" subject.

Vaughan wrote back that the only non-controversial subject he knew was "motherhood" and did the editor want an article on that?

Chesnut Warns On
Federal Influence

Philadelphia, Aug. 24 (AP)—Federal subsidies will result in the liquidation of state governments, says William H. Chesnut, state Secretary of Labor and Industry. Pennsylvania has become financially subservient to Washington, along with other states, he told the Optimist club of Philadelphia yesterday.

And the commonwealth is paying for its "own demise," Chesnut added, declaring that the federal government is acquiring power to control each state with its loans and gifts to the state, the town, the school district and the individual.

"This money is serving to attach all these interests directly to the central government and to make the state subject to its power."

The solution, he said, "is to send all non-governmental federal functions back to where they belong—to the state and local governments."

This in itself might bring a recommendation for cutting as many as 200,000 civilians off military payrolls.

PAUL REYNAUD URGES "REAL LEGISLATURE"

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Over in Strasbourg, France, seat of the new Council of Europe, idealists continue to urge that the 12 constituent nations join in forming a United States in which the members would sacrifice much of their sovereignty to the general welfare.

"Between these two giants," he said, "there is a place for a unified Europe, but not for a mosaic of independent states."

At long last this utopian idea of the past century shows signs of at least partial fruition. Like many other great developments, the current activity has its genesis in dangers—economic, political and military—which can only be met by concerted action.

The latest exponent of this extreme proposal, former French Premier Paul Reynaud, ranks internationally as a major prophet. More often than most, during the Hitlerian menace, he foresees the future.

Now he calls for western unity to meet impending crises.

Speaking yesterday on the grave European economic situation before the consultative assembly of the Council, Reynaud advocated a real European legislature, directly elected by the peoples of the member nations. He declared that only in this way could the assembly acquire authority to merge European economies into the single continental market, with one currency, which is to survive between America and Russia.

Reynaud foresaw the Nazi aggression and urged preparedness, but his was a voice crying in the wilderness. It was about that time, while he was finance minister, that I had a long talk with him in Paris. We covered a lot of ground, and at one point I asked him what he thought very largely turns the whole problem. No nation wants to surrender it.

"That's My Answer"

Reynaud foresaw the Nazi aggression and urged preparedness, but his was a voice crying in the wilderness. It was about that time, while he was finance minister, that I had a long talk with him in Paris. We covered a lot of ground, and at one point I asked him what he thought of America's tendency to confine its activities to the western hemisphere. He replied:

"There was a time when England thought she was an island."

I waited for more, and when it didn't come I inquired if that was his complete answer. He grinned and said:

"That's my answer."

Small catches of mullet often were sold for fantastic prices in the Roman Empire. The barracuda is able to change its color to conform to its background.

Lady In Black
Keeps Annual Date

Hollywood, Aug. 24 (AP) — The "Lady in Black" kept her annual rendezvous at the crypt of Rudolph Valentino.

Ditra Flame, as has been her custom for years, arrived yesterday at Hollywood cemetery in her chauffeur-driven car, and placed red roses on the marble slab.

There were dozens of other visitors, mostly curious to the crypt. Yesterday was the 23rd anniversary of the death of the famous silent screen lover.

The handmade American glass industry is largely concentrated today near Wheeling, W. Va., close to deposits of the world's finest silica sand, principal ingredient of glass.

Today's Talk

CELEBRATION OF THE DAWN
Can there be any celebration quite so dramatic and so pregnant with possibilities as the unfolding of the dawn? The enlivening of the leaves of trees, the movements of the delicate curtains of buds and the spreading out of every flower as though reaching to catch the first glorious touch of gold from the sun. And it is the time of many bursting of seeds to be thrown to the winds like tiny rockets.

The dawn is a celebration of miracles. With its spirit within our hearts we are invited to look up, not down, and to become conscious of every atom that the light stirs in every object of earth. The dawn is the tossing off of its garments of might to those colorful ones of the day. A benediction to the night and a doxology to the day.

Nature's orchestra is always in tune, and there are noises so silent that the human ear cannot perceive them, yet they melt into every note that is cast upon the air by bird, insect, and bend of leaf or tree. There is a harmonious blending of song, that is ethereal in its composition. A symphony of beauty, fragrance of earth and spiritual intoxicants.

The joys of all the earth unbind with the Dawn. How anxious the shut-in and the stricken in body respond. How they await its overt! Every chirp of sparrow, every song of robin or thrush is medicine to both body and soul. And what a rush of joy after a rain-drenched night, as the sun's rays touch the varnished and refreshed earth! Nature's griefs are absorbed and melt into laughter.

The Dawn is created for new beginnings, new resolves and obliterated regrets. The blue sky is whipped with wings that soar in gladness out of the darkness into the light. No discouragement abides in those tiny insect gatherers as they fit from tree to tree, patient, happy workers—messengers of hope to us all. Their very bodies are afame with passion and music.

Across meadows, over mountain passes, and upon the dancing waves of sea, river, and lake the Dawn spreads its glow and testament of assurance. Can we do less than enter wholeheartedly into its celebration?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "In The Hall of Sorrows."

THE FAILURE

He saw the tattered hat and coat.
The worn out shoes and shirt
And at a glance could clearly see
The man was smeared with dirt.

The signs of failure on his face
Were stamped for all to see,
And there was left no single trace
Of what he'd hoped to be!

There was a bishop, long since
dead,
Who saw a tramp pass by.
"But for the grace of God," he
said,

"In his place now were I."

When failures pass I wonder this,
As weakly they plod:
By what ill fortune did they miss
The saving grace of God?

Offer To Build Hut For Polio Patients

Allentown, Pa., Aug. 24 (P.) — An AFL union has offered to construct, free of charge, the quonset hut authorized by the Easton hospital to care for the overflow of polio patients. The offer was made yesterday by Michael F. Foley, business agent of Local 36, AFL's ironworkers.

He said Charles Tidmarsh, assistant superintendent of erection at Bethlehem Steel Co., has offered to supervise construction without charge.

The hospital trustees authorized construction of the hut because 28 patients are crowding the facilities of the hospital.

The trustees personally contribut-

$1,000 and said the remainder of the estimated $20,000 needed to build and equip the hut would be raised by public contributions.

ARENDSVILLE REFORMED MEN HARVEST FRUIT ON 'GOD'S ACRE'

There are many tomato patches scattered throughout the county. One of these patches is now being harvested in Arendtsville. To look at it this acre of tomatoes is no different than any other. But there is something very different about this acre of tomatoes. It has been dedicated to the work of the Zion Reformed church as "The Lord's Acre." All the profits of this plot will be placed in the church's building fund to help finance the erection of a new addition to extend the facilities of the church.

This project had its beginning at a social gathering of the Young Men's class of the Zion Reformed church. Under discussion were ways by which money could be raised for the building fund of the church. At the suggestion of the Rev. Nevin R. Frantz, pastor of the church, it was decided to sponsor the growing of an acre of tomatoes which should be dedicated to the work of the church.

The Rev. Mr. Frantz first began to ponder the idea of "The Lord's Acre" after it was mentioned at a conference for town and country pastors held at Penn State some years ago. He became acquainted further with the idea while taking a short course for town and country pastors at the University of Wisconsin and later at the University of Michigan. Invariably this idea would come up. The Arendtsville pastor decided such a project was worthwhile and especially suited to a rural church.

Plan Widely Used

This plan has a foundation going all the way back to Bible days when a part of all fruits, herbs or flocks was dedicated to the house of the Lord. By this plan some portion of the harvest is dedicated to some special work or need of the church by individuals or groups. The Lord's Acre plan was begun as a movement among country churches in western North Carolina in 1930. By 1940 it was estimated that at least 1,000 churches were using the Lord's Acre plan in the United States and mission fields.

"Such a plan unites the Word of God with the work of God throughout the daily life, extending the sense of the presence of God into the farm life. Work and worship are interfused as the church is brought into community life. Added interest is created in Christian stewardship as spiritual energy is called forth. Thus is developed Christian character, leadership and loyalty as more people labor together in Christian work," the Rev. Mr. Frantz said.

Harvest Is Underway

Such was the plan that the Young Men's class sponsored. Over an acre of ground was given by Sterling Sell. Ploughing and cultivating was done by Raymond Slaybaugh. Charles McDowell assisted in the cultivating. Roy Tate prepared the ground for planting and offered a truck for hauling the tomatoes. A truck was made available also by Glenn Hoke. The C. H. Musselman company kept the plants sprayed after 3,500 were planted on May 15. Members of the class, assembling after regular working hours, kept the field weeded and applied a half ton of fertilizer by hand. At present members of the class are meeting in the evening to pick these tomatoes. Already 4½ tons have been picked and taken to Musselman's. Average percentage of U. S. No. 1's was 74.5.

FARM CALENDAR

Renovate Laying House—When the laying pens have been emptied give the chicken house a thorough cleaning and renovation before moving new pullets in from range, suggests F. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. He adds: "Eliminate rat harbors and destroy these feed-wasting and income-reducing pests."

Tear Up Poor Pastures—Very poor pastures can be improved by applying a ton or two of lime, tearing up the old sod with a heavy tractor disk or bush-and-hog harrow. Apply the fertilizer and sow grass and legume seed in the spring.

Check Heifers' Condition—Joe S. Taylor, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, urges dairymen to check on the condition of heifers on pasture, and give them enough feed to enable them to be well-grown and thrifty when brought into the barn.

Pitching Horseshoes—Eliminations have started to determine county horseshoe pitching teams for the state finals at the Pennsylvania Farm Show next January in Harrisburg. W. R. Gordon, Penn State extension rural sociologist, says competition is keener than ever.

Cool Milk Quickly—Produce clean milk, cool it quickly and keep it cool to prevent growth of bacteria, states briefly the formula for quality milk as advocated by Ivan E. Parkin, Penn State extension dairy specialist.

Air Laying House—Dry out the laying house before placing litter on the floor and in the nests in preparation for new pullets.

Harvest Legume Seed—Even light crops usually pay for harvesting, declared Albert E. Cooper, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State college, in urging farmers to harvest for seed promising crops of alfalfa, red clover, or Ladino clover. Seed harvested at home is sure to be adapted to local conditions, and often commands a premium price if more than home requirements are gathered.

Electric Fences Foil Foxes—Foxes, common predators on Pennsylvania poultry flocks when birds are on range, have been kept safely at bay by a number of poultrymen with the use of electric fences. Harry H. Kauffman, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, says one strand 10 inches above ground usually suffices.

Kill Morning Glories—George H. Berggren, extension agronomist, the Pennsylvania State college, recommends one to one and one-half pounds of the ester form of 2, 4-D per acre applied in September to sod to be plowed down next spring for potatoes as one way to get rid of them.

They were worth $127.57. Total expenditures to date for fertilizer, plants and spraying amount to $75.

There are 27 members in the Young Men's class, 20 of which have already helped with this acre of tomatoes. The committee directing the project includes Blaine Hartman, Raymond Slaybaugh and Sterling Sell.

Many of these men joined with others in the congregation recently to help raise the little primary room built in 1897 and used until 1945 as a children's Sunday school room.

PRESENT FARM PROGRAM HAD START IN '33

(Editor's Note: This is the first of two stories on the various, and sometimes confusing, farm plans in Congress.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—Except for the experts, probably by this time no one knows the difference between the various farm plans kicking around in Congress.

The Gore plan, The Aiken plan,

The Anderson and Brannan plans. What do they mean? They differ only in details but all are aimed at one thing:

Giving farmers some assurance they'll have a steady income, even if the government has to step in and help them get it.

The present plans are all out-morning glories in the 1950 potato field.

Keep Strong Pullets—For a good-laying pullet flock keep only the birds above average in development, uniformity, breeding, vigor and health, suggests Robert G. Laufer, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State College.

Keep Flowers Fresh—Chemical solutions (your county agent has the formula) have been used successfully to keep cut flowers fresh, says A. O. Rasmussen, Penn State extension ornamental horticulturist.

Yorkshire Schoolboy, 18, Conquers English Channel In 23 Hours 48 Minutes

FIRST TO MAKE TRIP THIS YEAR; FAILED TWICE

Dover, England, Aug. 24 (AP)—Philip Mickman, 18, conquered the tricky waters of the English Channel today after two previous unsuccessful tries. The plucky Yorkshire schoolboy, who swam the grueling distance in 23 hours and 48 minutes, was the first to make it this year.

Mickman swam the last few miles in darkness and drizzling rain. He waded ashore at Kingsdown, seven miles northeast of Dover, at 5:38 a. m., British summer time (11:33 p. m., EST, Tuesday), his associates said.

Meanwhile, Cuban swimmer Jose Cortinas plunged into the water at Cap Gris Nez, France, at 5:25 a. m. (12:25 a. m., EST) today for his second channel attempt this month.

Met By Father

After reaching shore at Kingsdown, Mickman boarded the boat that accompanied him on the swim and returned to Dover.

Smiling broadly, the chunky schoolboy walked up the beach at Dover wrapped in a huge blanket.

He was hurried to his storefront hotel by his father, William H. Mickman, and trainer E. H. Temmier, who is a two-time channel swimmer.

A few minutes later the British Union Jack was hoisted over the hotel.

Congratulated By Shirley

Mickman was hustled into a hot bath to get rid of the heavy coating of grease which had protected him from the chilly channel water. Reporters were asked to leave the boy alone for the time being.

Shirley May France, Somerset, Mass., high school girl, who hopes to make the channel swim this season, was among the first to congratulate Mickman.

Her father, Walter J. France, who was aboard the boat which accompanied Mickman across the channel was full of praise for the youth.

"It was the pluckiest piece of swimming I have ever seen," France declared. "We learned a lot from it."

FIND BODIES OF VET AND NIECE

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP)—Martin J. Mayer is broken hearted today by the suicide of his 30-year-old son. The son killed himself after slaying his nine-year-old niece to silence her.

"This is a terrible thing but I would rather see him dead than disgrace the family," Mayer said last night shortly after being told the bullet-pierced body of his son, Arthur, had been found near Detroit. At almost the time he was speaking the body of Arthur's niece, Barbara Jean Aberl, was found in a pond. She had been missing since August 12.

A note found on Arthur's body said he had taken indecent liberties with the little girl and that he decided to kill her when she said she would tell her parents.

"I never noted any criminal tendencies in Arthur," his father said. "He was generally quiet and obedient but he seemed nervous and restless when he got out of the Army."

Then Mayer related how his son had been in the Army from 1942 to 1945 and had seen combat in France. He told, too, of Arthur's estrangement from the Johnstown girl he married while in the service.

PAUL REYNAUD URGES "REAL LEGISLATURE"

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Over in Strasbourg, France, seat of the new Council of Europe, idealists continue to urge that the 12 constituent nations join in forming a United States in which the members would sacrifice much of their sovereignty to the general welfare.

At long last this utopian idea of the past century shows signs of at least partial fruition. Like many other great developments, the current activity has its genesis in dangers—economic, political and military—which can only be met by concerted action.

The latest exponent of this extreme proposal, former French Premier Paul Reynaud, ranks internationally as a major prophet. More often than most, during the Hitlerian menace, he foresaw the future. Now he calls for western unity to meet impending crises.

Speaking yesterday on the grave European economic situation before the consultative assembly of the Council, Reynaud advocated a real European legislature, directly elected by the peoples of the member nations. He declared that only in this way could the assembly acquire authority to merge European economies into the single continental market, with one currency, which he maintains is demanded if Europe is to survive between America and Russia.

"Between these two giants," he said, "there is a place for a unified Europe, but not for a mosaic of independent states."

On Dead-End Street

"The road we are following," he asserted at another place, "is a dead-end street. It comes to an end in 1952." The Marshall plan is scheduled to terminate then.

He was, of course, speaking as a financial expert, who among other things served as French finance minister during the critical days of 1938-39. He put the proposition bluntly, saying that such a step would eventually mean a sacrifice of national sovereignty, but nevertheless must be taken.

Upon this question of sovereignty very largely turns the whole problem. No nation wants to surrender it.

"That's My Answer"

Reynaud foregave the Nazi aggression and urged preparedness, but his was a voice crying in the wilderness. It was about that time, that he had a long talk with him in Paris. We covered a lot of ground, and at one point I asked him what he thought of America's tendency to confine its activities to the western hemisphere. He replied:

"There was a time when England thought she was an island."

I waited for more, and when it didn't come I inquired if that was his complete answer. He grinned and said:

"That's my answer."

NEW EMPEROR FOR KNIGHTS OF KU KLUX KLAN

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 24 (AP)—A fiery-tongued, silver-manned former Baptist minister reached out today for new power as the nation's imperial emperor of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Lycurgus Spinks, who recently described himself as the "fightingest buck private in the rear ranks of the Klan," has been enthroned to lead an ambitious new union of the robed order. The group has invited other Klans throughout the nation to join their organization.

Spinks, a bespectacled, heavy-set orator of the old school, was selected by Ku Kluxers from six states to head their combined order. The new imperial emperor, whose long, silver hair curls under at his coat collar, once lived near Meridian, Miss. He ran unsuccessfully for governor there in 1946.

Claim 265,000 Members

The 64-year-old Spinks boasts he has been a Klansman for more than a quarter of a century.

Robed and masked, about 60 Klan leaders from Alabama, Mississippi, Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee and Louisiana met yesterday in private in a Montgomery hotel room. Only Spinks was bare faced.

They met within a few blocks of the state capitol, where legislators recently enacted a law banning masks or hoods in public.

Spinks says the new organization has 265,000 members.

Crashes Wall Of Home Of Friend

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 24 (AP)—Eva Russell, 36, decided to pay a surprise visit to a friend. It was.

She found Eugenia Chitty under the bed staring in alarm at the headlights and grille of a car—Mrs. Russell's—which had just plowed through the brick wall.

The Chitty woman said she was sleeping on the floor because it was cooler there. As for the woman driver, a novice, she said she just forgot to turn a corner.

ing yesterday were the Independent Klans, Seashore Klans, Ozark Klans, Star Klans, River Valley Klans and Allied Klans.

Not included were the Federated Ku Klux Klans, Inc., principal target of Alabama officials, and the Association of Georgia Klans.

Spinks, who now lives at Thomasville, Ala., said an organization campaign would be begun in all 48 states and that "all legitimate Klan groups" would be welcomed.

Morris said he did not think it would last long.

Although only Spinks was unmasked at the meeting, the organization adopted a rule against the wearing of masks in public.

He said any Klansman worthy of that title was not afraid to show his face.

OPPOSE BLOOD TO BUY LIQUOR

Philadelphia, Aug. 24 (AP)—The President of the Women's Christian Temperance Union Monday urged charity blood banks to stop accepting "obviously unfit" blood from persons seeking money to buy liquor.

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin told the 75th annual WCTU convention that the practice of selling blood for drinking funds has become prevalent among vagrants who term it "peddling the red."

Referring to an article by William J. Slocum in Collier's magazine, the WCTU head said the blood bank practices discussed were investigated by the temperance organization early this year in Chicago.

"What our investigators knew to be true," Mrs. Colvin said, "was met with general denials by clinics and doctors."

Nevertheless, most clinics using it certainly know where the blood comes from, and banks take advantage of the honors by paying them as little as $3 a pint, sometimes up to $8, while the price of most leading hospitals for good blood is $25 to $50.

"Steps by health authorities are certainly indicated if the banks and clinics do not stop the practice."

H. Cecil Heath, of London, general secretary of the United Kingdom (temperance) Alliance, told the convention last night that drinking brought on a host of "disasters and near-disasters to the Allied armies" in World War II.

They seek the post left vacant by the death of the late Rep. Robert L. Coffey, Jr., a colonel in the air force reserve who was killed shortly after his election. His Airforce jet plane crashed last April in New Mexico on a training flight.

Hoping to serve out his unexpired term are his mother, Mrs. Robert L. Coffey, Sr., Johnstown; and John P. Saylor, Johnstown attorney, Republican.

Their spirited campaign is shaping up as the hottest fight in Pennsylvania's Sept. 13 primary election. The race is one of two special congressional contests in the nation this fall. Local option votes and mayor elections will take the rest of the spotlight in Pennsylvania balloting.

Abilene, Kans., famed as the frontier head of the old Chisholm cattle trail, was given its Biblical name, meaning "grassy plain," by a devout woman settler.

What is believed to be the earliest surviving piece of glass was produced about 5,000 years ago.

Heavy Primary Vote Expected In Penna.

Harrisburg, Aug. 24 (AP)—Polling places in Pennsylvania will be open from 7 a. m. (EST) to 8 p. m. for the September 13 primary election. Political leaders are looking for one of the heaviest votes in recent years, even though a state Superior Court seat is the only statewide contest.

They are basing their predictions on the large voter registration evidenced around the state this year. Figures on the actual size of the registration have not yet been tabulated.

Judge William E. Hirt, of Erie, is seeking the Republican nomination for another term on the Superior Court, while Judge Harry Montgomery, of Allegheny county will seek the Democratic nomination to the post.

A host of common pleas court and associate judge seats also will be decided in the election this year, along with the $500,000 veterans bonus question.

Information Available

Infectious bronchitis may cause high mortality among young chicks and a marked drop in egg production in laying flocks, Dr. Bishop explained. Distribution of the virus will be limited to flocks known to have had the disease. Inoculations are to be made on approximately one per cent of the flock to be treated.

Flock owners using the infectious bronchitis virus are asked to observe respiratory symptoms three to four days after the birds have recovered from the inoculation. Applications for inoculation should be made to the Bureau of Animal Industry. Detailed information may be obtained by visiting or calling the laboratory of the bureau at Summerdale, near Harrisburg.

COPS DOWN COMICS

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 24 (AP)—The Fraternal Order of Police have reaffirmed a resolution to outlaw horror and lurid comics. Delegates at the 29th national conference yesterday renewed a stand taken at the last convention in 1947, contending such comics contributed materially and directly to juvenile crime.

What is believed to have been the earliest surviving piece of glass was produced about 5,000 years ago.

News Items For Upper End

STATE TO TEST CONTROL MEANS FOR BRONCHITIS

An experiment directed toward control of infectious bronchitis in poultry has been launched by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Through the Bureau of Animal Industry the department is prepared to furnish sufficient virus to licensed veterinarians on request of Pennsylvania poultry flock owners to inoculate a selected number of birds within the flock.

Through these inoculated birds there will be distribution of exposure for the entire flock, according to Dr. C. P. Bishop, director of the bureau.

From this operation the animal laboratory of the bureau desires to obtain essential data relating to the method used and results obtained as a control measure for this costly disease of poultry.

General Vaughan, a friend of Mr. Truman since their first army days in 1918, has two jobs in the White House: military aide and coordinator of veteran affairs.

As military aide he lays wreaths and makes speeches when Mr. Truman is too busy to do either; as veterans coordinator he's a referee between government agencies which handle veterans affairs.

Vaughan and the President are on close, daily, friendly terms. They swim together. And it was Vaughan who revealed that the President swims with his glasses on because he's so nearsighted.

All in all, he's been a controversial figure, and apparently is very much aware of it. The Washington Star tells this story about him:

He once cracked that Winston Churchill is a "garrulous old gentleman" and shortly afterward received a letter from the editor of the American Mercury who informed Vaughan that he seemed to detect a literary bent in the general and would the general write an article on any "non-controversial" subject?

Vaughan wrote back that the only non-controversial subject he knew was "motherhood" and did the editor want an article on that?

Progressive Biglerville Abounds With Many Merchandising Opportunities

St. Paul's Lutheran Had Its Beginnings 68 Years Ago; Dedicated In '82

Sixty-eight years ago when Biglerville was called Middletown and was still a village, a group of its citizens came together in the community school house to lay plans for the building of a church in which to worship. A series of meetings were held and from them the St. Paul's Lutheran church was brought into being.

The first in these series of meetings was held on February 24, 1881. At this meeting several resolutions were passed. An old record of these proceedings shows the following resolutions were passed:

"1. Resolved that we citizens of Middletown and vicinity have met here today at the public school house in Middletown for the purpose of building a Lutheran church and request all Lutherans in and around this place and all Christians and everybody to cooperate with us in the erection of a Lutheran church here in Middletown."

"2. Resolved that said church shall be built for the promotion of Christianity."

"2. Resolved that said church shall be built for the promotion of Christianity."

"3. Resolved that said church shall be owned and controlled by the Lutheran congregation of Middletown and vicinity who shall compose the congregation and when not occupied by the Lutherans to be open to such other denominations as the church council shall see fit to give."

"4. Resolved that we as Lutherans invite everybody to aid us in this good work and pray that it may be a success. Let each and every one now take hold, do all they can, and build a good substantial Church that shall be, we hope, beneficial to this whole community."

"5. Resolved that (we) appoint a committee as a soliciting committee of the aforesaid Church. Said committee shall consist of Jacob Mowery, Isaac Byers, Henry Roth, William Bream, Henry Deardorff, John Heiges, Daniel Walter, George Schriener, John Minter, Andrew F. Cronise."

Considered Three Sites

The amount and kind of the subscriptions obtained by this soliciting committee left no doubt as to the zeal of the solicitors or the support of Middletown citizens. At the next meeting on March 2, 1881, this committee reported subscriptions in money, material and labor amounting to $1,643, a considerable sum in those days. Realizing the number of citizens who were rallying to their cause the group voted "to take steps to build a Lutheran church in Middletown." A building site committee was elected including John Minter, Andrew F. Cronise, and Daniel Walter.

Reporting to the group on March 5, the building site committee named three possible building sites owned by Jacob Peters, Valentine Sillick, and J. A. H. Rether. At the next meeting on March 12, the two sites under consideration were those owned by Susan Deardorff and J. A. H. Rether. These two owned adjoining lots of one quarter acre each on the Arendtsville road. Susan Deardorff agreed to sell her lot for $100 minus $50 which she would subscribe. Mr. Rether agreed to sell for $50. Agreement was reached to buy these two lots. Immediately a building committee was appointed. On the committee were Daniel Walter, John Lupp, and James McDaniel. John Minter was elected treasurer.

Plan First Church

Before any thought was given to the building itself attention was given to the building of a railing fence on three sides of the lot. Five railings high, the fence took 230 rails and 48 posts all of which were donated. With the fence under way thought was then given to the church building. Decided upon was a building 32 by 60 feet with an arched ceiling and a recess for an altar. There would be a vestibule with a gallery above it. Cost of this original church was $2,351.60.

Chosen as "boss carpenters" at $1.55 per day to put up the church were John Lupp and Charles P. K.

Two weeks after St. Paul's church was dedicated, the Sunday school was organized with Isaac Byers as its superintendent and William E. Bream as assistant superintendent. Attending this first Sunday school were 40 members.

Renovated In 1899

Several years went by. In 1899 during the pastorate of Rev. U. A. Hankey the church was renovated and rededication services held October 1. More improvements were made during the pastorate of Rev. S. A. Diehl with re-opening services July 12, 1908.

Another eventful year in this church's history was 1912. During this year St. Paul's Lutheran church left the Bendersville charge and joining with Bender's church formed the Biglerville charge with Rev. C. F. Floto serving the new charge. The church received a complete renovation. The gallery was removed, semi-circular pews installed, and a tower erected. To accommodate the growing Sunday school, a new Sunday school room, 45 by 50 feet, was built on to the church proper at a cost of $7,000. This new auditorium was separated from the old church auditorium by doors.

Provided Parsonage

Consideration was given to a home for the pastor in January of 1915 when a parsonage house on Penn street was bought for $2,900. Later, in December of 1920 this parsonage was sold and the present parsonage on York street was purchased from Harry U. Walters for $5,500.

A history of the church would not be complete unless mention was given to those Christians who served in the World Wars. During the first World War, 17 members of the St. Paul's Lutheran church went marching off to war. Again in the second World War 67 members of this church responded to the call and risked all for God and country. Dean E. Fink made the supreme sacrifice.

Interior renovations were made again in 1926 and a pipe organ installed at a cost of $12,000. Dedication services were held December 12.

Scarcely had this been completed when plans were under way to dig out the basement and install a new furnace. Members of the church volunteered their time to help with the digging which was done over the winters of 1927 and 1928, after which a new furnace was installed. While they were at it, they reconditioned a room in the basement that would serve as a classroom for the Men's Bible class which in 1928 was formed from two other classes to relieve overcrowding. Prof. Charles L. Yost was elected teacher of this class and has been instructing it ever since. Enrollment of the entire Sunday school now numbered 225.

Again in 1938 improvements were carried out. This time the church was re-frescoed, stained glass windows were repaired and caulked, the church received a new coat of paint inside and out, and the bricks were repointed.

By 1938 the enrollment was up to

LINIMENT ODOR TRAPS VANDALS

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 24 (UPI)—A state policeman who knows liniment when he smells it solved a case of juvenile vandalism near this western Pennsylvania town.

Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, 48, a Sunday school teacher, found her home a shambles when she returned on Sunday. Sixteen windows were broken, rugs torn up, her furniture smashed and a bottle of liniment upset.

She thought robbers had paid her a visit and called state police. An officer made a routine check of neighbors' homes. He talked to two six-year-old boys. Both smelled of liniment.

The boys admitted they visited Mrs. Hamilton's house. They said two other boys, each 10, were with them. State police released them in custody of their parents. They said their parents would have to pay for around $1,000 dollars worth of damage.

Mrs. Hamilton fainted when she saw the quartet. When revived she

New Drive For Cut In Excise Tax Rate

Washington, Aug. 24 (UPI)—A new drive for a slash-by-Christmas in wartime excise tax rates was launched in Congress Tuesday. It developed in the face of a forceful statement by Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the tax-framing House Ways and Means committee that he sees no prospect for such a tax cut this year.

Doughton said the threat of a federal deficit of $5,000,000,000 or more in the present fiscal year virtually forecloses hope for such a slash upset.

But House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts, author of an excise-cutting bill, said: "maybe if we bring enough pressure we'll still get something done."

Two Democrats—Reps. Multer of New York and Davenport of Pennsylvania—took the House floor to demand a reduction in the wartime rates. These amount to 20 per cent of the retail price of many items such as furs, cosmetics, jewelry and luggage.

NEW EMPEROR FOR KNIGHTS OF KU KLUX KLAN

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 24 (AP)—A fiery-tongued, silver-manned former Baptist minister reached out today for new power as the nation's imperial emperor of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Lycurgus Spinks, who recently described himself as the "fightingest buck private in the rear ranks of the Klan," has been enthroned to lead an ambitious new union of the robed order. The group has invited other Klans throughout the nation to join their organization.

Spinks, a bespectacled, heavy-set orator of the old school, was selected by Ku Kluxers from six states to head their combined order. The new imperial emperor, whose long, silver hair curled under at his coat collar, once lived near Meridian, Miss. He ran unsuccessfully for governor there in 1946.

Claim 265,000 Members

The 64-year-old Spinks boasts he has been a Klansman for more than a quarter of a century.

Robed and masked, about 60 Klan leaders from Alabama, Mississippi, Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee and Louisiana met yesterday in private in a Montgomery hotel room. Only Spinks was bare faced.

They met within a few blocks of the state capitol, where legislators recently enacted a law banning masks or hoods in public.

Spinks says the new organization has 265,000 members.

PACKARD PRICES BEGIN AT $2,306.69 * DELIVERED HERE

*State and local taxes, if any, extra. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining areas because of transportation charges.

Here's distinctive new beauty—and distinctive everything else! For example:

Distinctive, 135-HP performance. S-m-o-o-t-h-e-r, quieter than ever. With spectacular "safety-sprint" reserve power... and sensational gas economy!

Distinctive, "Limousine Ride"—triple-cushioned by Packard's costly "self-controlling" suspension system.

Distinctive, precision-built quality—safeguarded by 4,287 major inspections per car. Quality note: Of all the Packards built—in the last 50 years—over 50% are still in service!

And all this distinction is yours at a price that's less than for many lighter-built, lower-powered eights... less, even than for some of today's sixes!

The moral, of course, is: Now that you're so close to the price of a Packard—why not own one?

OPPOSE BLOOD TO BUY LIQUOR

Philadelphia, Aug. 24 (AP)—The President of the Women's Christian Temperance Union Monday urged charity blood banks to stop accepting "obviously unfit" blood from donors seeking money to buy liquor.

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin told the 75th annual WCTU convention that the practice of selling blood for drinking funds has become prevalent among grafters who term it "peddling the red."

Referring to an article by William J. Slocum in Collier's magazine, the WCTU head said the blood bank practices discussed were investigated by the temperance organization early this year in Chicago.

"What our investigators knew to be true," Mrs. Colvin said, "was met with general denials by clinics and doctors."

"Nevertheless, most clinics using it certainly know where the blood comes from, and banks take advantage of the honors by paying them as little as $3 a pint, sometimes up to $8, while the price of most leading hospitals for good blood is $25 to $50."

Morris said he did not think it would last long.

Although only Spinks was unmasked at the meeting, the organization adopted a rule against the wearing of masks in public.

He said any Klansman worthy of that title was not afraid to show his face.

Heavy Primary Vote Expected In Penna.

Harrisburg, Aug. 24 (AP)—Polling places in Pennsylvania will be open from 7 a.m. (EST) to 8 p.m. for the September 13 primary election. Political leaders are looking for one of the heaviest votes in recent years, even though a state Superior Court seat is the only statewide contest.

They are basing their predictions on the large voter registration evidenced around the state this year. Figures on the actual size of the registration have not yet been tabulated.

Judge William E. Hirt, of Erie, is seeking the Republican nomination for another term on the Superior Court, while Judge Harry Montgomery, of Allegheny county will seek the Democratic nomination to the post.

A host of common pleas court and associate judge seats also will be decided in the election this year, along with the $500,000 veterans bonus question.

Johnstown Site For Hot Election Battle

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP)—The mother of a war hero and an ex-nurse officer who played a minor role in the famous Iwo Jima flag-raising are rival candidates for Congress in Pennsylvania.

They seek the post left vacant by the death of the late Rep. Robert L. Coffey, Jr., a colonel in the air force reserve who was killed shortly after his election. His Airforce jet plane crashed last April in New Mexico on a training flight.

Hoping to serve out his unexpired term is his mother, Mrs. Robert L. Coffey, Sr., Johnstown attorney, Republican.

Their spirited campaign is shaping up as the hottest fight in Pennsylvania's Sept. 13 primary election. The race is one of two special congressional contests in the nation this fall. Local option votes and mayor elections will take the rest of the spotlight in Pennsylvania balloting.

Abilene, Kans., famed as the frontier head of the old Chisholm cattle trail, was given its Biblical name, meaning "grassy plain," by a devout woman settler.

ARENDSVILLE REFORMED MEN HARVEST FRUIT ON 'GOD'S ACRE'

There are many tomato patches scattered throughout the county.

One of these patches is now being harvested in Arendtsville. To look at it this acre of tomatoes is no different than any other. But there is something very different about this acre of tomatoes. It has been dedicated to the work of the Zion Reformed church as "The Lord's Acre." All the profits of this plot will be placed in the church's building fund to help finance the erection of a new addition to extend the facilities of the church.

This project had its beginning at a social gathering of the Young Men's class of the Zion Reformed church. Under discussion were ways by which money could be raised for the building fund of the church. At the suggestion of the Rev. Nevin R. Frantz, pastor of the church, it was decided to sponsor the growing of an acre of tomatoes which should be dedicated to the work of the church.

The Rev. Mr. Frantz first began to ponder the idea of "The Lord's Acre" after it was mentioned at a conference for town and country pastors held at Penn State some years ago. He became acquainted further with the idea while taking a short course for town and country pastors at the University of Wisconsin and later at the University of Michigan. Invariably this idea would come up. The Arendtsville pastor decided such a project was worthwhile and especially suited to a rural church.

Plan Widely Used

This plan has a foundation going all the way back to Bible days when a part of all fruits, herbs or flocks was dedicated to the house of the Lord. By this plan some portion of the harvest is dedicated to some special work or need of the church by individuals or groups. The Lord's Acre plan was begun as a movement among country churches in western North Carolina in 1930. By 1944 it was estimated that at least 1,000 churches were using the Lord's Acre plan in the United States and mission fields.

"Such a plan unites the Word of God with the work of God throughout the daily life, extending the sense of the presence of God into the farm life. Work and worship are interwoven as the church is brought into community life. Added interest is created in Christian stewardship as spiritual energy is called forth. Thus is developed Christian character, leadership and loyalty as more people labor together in Christian work," the Rev. Mr. Frantz said.

Harvest Is Underway

Such was the plan that the Young Men's class sponsored. Over an acre of ground was given by Sterling Sell. Ploughing and cultivating was done by Raymond Slaybaugh. Charles McDaniell assisted in the cultivation. Roy Tate prepared the ground for planting and offered a truck for hauling the tomatoes. A truck was made available also by Glenn Hoke. The C. H. Musselman company kept the plants sprayed after 3,000 were planted on May 15. Members of the class, assembling after regular working hours, kept the field weeded and applied a half ton of fertilizer by hand. At present members of the class are meeting in the evening to pick these tomatoes. Already 4½ tons have been picked and taken to Musselman's. Average percentage of U.S. No. 1's was 74½.

FARM CALENDAR

Renovate Laying House—When the laying pens have been emptied give the chicken house a thorough cleaning and renovation before moving new pullets in from range, suggests F. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. He adds: "Eliminate rat harbors and destroy these feed-wasting and income-destroying pests."

Tear Up Poor Pastures—Very poor pastures can be improved by applying a ton or two of lime, tearing up the old sod with a heavy tractor disk or bush-and-bog harrow. Apply the fertilizer and sow grass and legume seed in the spring.

Check Heifers' Condition—Joe S. Taylor, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, urges dairymen to check on the condition of heifers on pasture, and give them enough feed to enable them to be well-grown and thrifty when brought into the barn.

Pitching Horseshoes—Eliminations have started to determine county horseshoe pitching teams for the state finals at the Pennsylvania Farm Show next January in Harrisburg. W. R. Cordon, Penn State extension rural sociologist, says competition is keener than ever.

Cool Milk Quickly—Produce clean milk, cool it quickly and keep it cool to prevent growth of bacteria, states briefly the formula for quality milk as advocated by Ivan E. Parkin, Penn State extension dairy specialist.

Air Laying House—Dry out the laying house before placing litter on the floor and in the nests in preparation for new pullets.

Harvest Legume Seed—Even light crops usually pay for harvesting, declared Albert E. Cooper, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State college, in urging farmers to harvest for seed promising crops of alfalfa, red clover, or Ladino clover. Seed harvested at home is sure to be adapted to local conditions, and often commands a premium price if more than home requirements are gathered.

Electric Fences Foul Foxes—Foxes, common predators on Pennsylvania poultry flocks when birds are on range, have been kept safely at bay by a number of poultrymen with the use of electric fences. Harry H. Kauffman, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, says one strand 10 inches above ground usually suffices.

Kill Morning Glories—George H. Berggren, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State college, recommends one to one and one-half pounds of the ester form of 2, 4-D per acre applied in September to soil to be plowed down next spring for potatoes as one way to get rid of them.

They Were Worth $127.57—Total expenditures to date for fertilizer plants and spraying amount to $75.

There are 27 members in the Young Men's class, 20 of which have already helped with this acre of tomatoes. The committee directing the project includes Blaine Hartman, Raymond Slaybaugh and Sterling Sell.

Many of these men joined with others in the congregation recently to help raise the little primary room built in 1897 and used until 1945 as a children's Sunday school room.

PRESENT FARM PROGRAM HAD START IN '33

(Editor's Note: This is the first of two stories on the various, and sometimes confusing, farm plans in Congress.)

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—Except for the experts, probably by this time no one knows the difference between the various farm plans kicking around in Congress.

The Gore plan, The Aiken plan, The Anderson and Brannan plans. What do they mean? They differ only in details but all are aimed at one thing:

Giving farmers some assurance they'll have a steady income, even if the government has to step in and help them get it.

The present plans are all overnight glories in the 1950 potato field.

Keep Strong Pullets—For a good-laying pullet flock keep only the birds above average in development, uniformity, breeding, vigor and health, suggests Robert G. Laufer, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State College.

Keep Flowers Fresh—Chemical solutions (your county agent has the formula) have been used successfully to keep cut flowers fresh, says A. O. Rasmussen, Penn State extension ornamental horticulturist.
